HUGE ENCAMPMENT REVEALED AT ROCKY POINT, GULL LAKE

WEDNESDAY NIGHT FOUND ST. PAUL SPORTSMEN CAMPED EARLY ON GROUNDS

MILLE LACS INDIANS STAGE A WAR DANCE FOR THE CONVENTION VISITORS

Rocky Point, Gull Lake, near Brainerd, scene of the sixth annual convention of the Minnesota Game Protective League, jutting out like a tented icty in the picturesque lake, is in perfect shape to receive the 10,000 visitors expected to attend the great out-door meeting.

And a place of honor has been accorded the band of 150 Mille Lacs Indians. The first outdoor man of America has received a friendly greeting from his white brothers and he appreciates the hospitality shown.

To the music of their drums, almost deafening at times, illuminated by the lights of many automobiles the Indians, bucks, squaws and little ones, staged a war dance and cheers greeted the performance.

The Indians called for C. C. Hildebrand, of Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota Game Protective League, and nothing loth, he danced several laps with the Indians.

As explained by their interpreter, the Indians made no charge for attending the encampment and were grateful for the hospitality accorded them. Of the money donated them at the dances, ten per cent goes to the dancers and the balance into their fund for improvements in the way of a wood saw and other machinery needed at their home.

St. Paul After Convention

Although the convention does not officially open until Thursday morning, many delegations had pitched camp. The St. Paul delegation has a section of the point and their quarter is distinguished by a large sign bearing the slogan "St. Paul in 1922", and they are the first competitors for next year's convention honors.

Little Falls Coming

Little Falls expects to send nearly 50 automobiles, representatives of the Little Falls Automobile club and Morrison County Sportsmen's club. Plans have been completed to take the Little Falls Juvenile band along.

Stream of Cars

All day and night Wednesday, before the official opening of the convention, cars wended their way to the grounds. Whole families and tents and blankets were carried.

And father doesn't have to worry about the cooking. If the home talent is ineffective to stem the terrible tide of appetites, lunches and meals cooked in the open air, may be bought on the grounds.

All records for appetites will be broken when the two fish fries are staged by Andrew A. Gieriet. He will cook it all in the open, tons of fish, tons of French fried potatoes, topped off with onions and radishes and coffee or iced tea, bread and butter, etc., and if the first plate does not fill the void, a second helping may be called for.

All the Beauties of Nature

The Crow Wing Game, Fish & Bird Protective League, hosts to this monster convention, has massed all the beauties of nature, of out door life and such an impression will be made on the visitors that many will overstay the allotted period of the convention.

It's Cool

Rocky Point is a resort which has water on three sides and gets every flash of a breeze of the lake. No hills check the flow of air. On the hottest furnace-like days of summer, cool breezes prevailed at Rocky Point.

JAP ACCEPTANCE OF DISARMAMENT PARLEY NOT FRANK

NO REFERENCE WAS MADE TO SETTLEMENT OF PACIFIC QUESTIONS

CHINA AND OTHER COUNTRIES WILL ALSO BE ASKED FORMALLY

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14—The state department was notified of Japan's acceptance of President Harding's invitation to a disarmament conference today.

The Japanese communication however, omitted any reference to a discussion of the problem in the Pacific which was also included in the tentative invitation sent out last Saturday.

It was said on high authority that Japan's failure to include the Pacific question in her acceptance was not necessarily regarded as an expression of disapproval of the American proposal.

It was added however, that the Japanese government would have to agree before hand to include the Pacific question because any practical result of disarmament would have to be based on an amicable settlement in the Pacific.

Officials were plainly perplexed by the Japanese answer, and it was assumed that no formal invitation naming a date for the conference will be prepared until the Japanese attitude is cleared up.

The possibility of Japan making some such answer had been foreseen and discussed here. But it was believed that she would finally accept unreservedly.

Formal notification that China would participate in the conference was also received today. The five nations which received the American query as to whether invitation to a conference would be welcome, have now replied with an unconditional affirmative, except Japan.

China's notification of her willingness to participate was included in the statement that she would welcome discussions of the far east problem.

The United States will offer no objection to the participation of Belgium and the Netherlands in the discussion of the problem of the Pacific. It was said. It is recognized these two countries have a stake in the far east and the conference is intended to be a full expression of the views of the interested nations definitely settling the Pacific question.

No formal requests were made by these two countries to come into the conference however.

Complete Present Building Program.

Tokio, July 14—The newspaper Michinichi today stated the Japanese navy department will insist on completing its present building program. There is a general feeling here among public officials for accepting the disarmament proposal if possible by adding many reservations as far as possible.

The general trend of opinion is that the proposal came sooner than expected and that the time is not ripe for such a move.

Kleptomaniac Attempts to Commit Suicide

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 14—Mrs. Etta Heil, millionaire wife recently convicted and paroled as a "burglar maid," was in a hospital today following an attempt at suicide last night by swallowing poison.

BRIAND AS A PACIFIST FAVORS DISARMAMENT

(By United Press)

Paris, July 14—Premier Briand, being a pacifist, favors any effort to prevent war, but disarmament must be considered by France in connection with the threats of Germany.

This was the authoritative presentation of the premier's view regarding the conference as given to the United Press today by a close friend of Briand's.

BRITISH AND IRISH BEGIN PEACE PARLEY TODAY IN LONDON

DEVALERA AND LLOYD GEORGE HAVE FINAL CONFERENCE BEFORE FORMAL SESSION

PREMIER DREW UP FORMAL PROPOSAL FOR GOVT. TO BE PRESENTED TO DELEGATES

(By United Press)

London, July 14—Britain and Ireland met today at the peace table today to settle their centuries of feud.

Eamonn DeValera, president of the Irish republic, and Premier Lloyd George had a final conference with their respective groups of colleagues this morning preliminary to the final session of the peace negotiations scheduled for 4:30 this afternoon in Downing street. The British premier was drawing up a formal statement of his government's proposal for a settlement. This was to be presented to DeValera this afternoon.

The atmosphere was considered distinctly favorable to peace today. Thousands of troops were arriving here from Ireland indicating that the government has no fear of a quick breakdown of the proceedings.

Negotiations Formally Opened

London, July 14—The Irish peace negotiations opened promptly at 4:30 this afternoon.

At that hour Eamonn DeValera and Premier Lloyd George began the first of their conferences at 10 Downing street.

Peace Session Satisfactory to Irish Delegates

London, July 14—The first session in the Irish peace negotiations this afternoon was "completely satisfactory" to the Sinn Fein representatives. It was said at the conclusion of the conference.

Eamonn DeValera and Premier Lloyd George conferred alone at 10 Downing street for two hours and forty-five minutes, completing their conversation at 7:15 p. m.

"The conference was completely satisfactory from my viewpoint," declared Arthur O'Brien, who accompanied DeValera, although he did not participate in the negotiations.

The conference will be resumed tomorrow.

MEXICO RESCINDS EXPORT TAX ON CRUDE OIL

Galveston, Texas, July 14—President Obregon rescinded the export tax on crude oil according to a dispatch from Mexico City.

After an all night conference with a committee from the Mexican congress, Obregon issued a proclamation rescinding the tax. This was done, the message said, after congress had received a semi-official assurance that the United States would not impose an export tax on oil.

Obregon urged immediate resumption of work in all the oil fields to relieve unemployment and invite foreign oil company officials to a conference to work out a plan to stimulate production.

PRESENT BLUE SUNDAY BILL TO PRES. HARDING

SOUTHERN METHODIST SABBATH SAVINGS CRUSADE SOCIETY URGE DRASTIC LAW

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14—A blue haze enveloped the national capitol today.

Noah W. Cooper, of Nashville, Tennessee, chairman of the Southern Methodist Sabbath Savings Crusade, presented to President Harding today a bill which would virtually close down the nation on Sunday.

The leader, with members of his delegation, conferred with members of congress urging support of the measure.

This bill would prohibit on Sunday: All work by employees of the United States.

All work by the postoffice. The publication of all newspapers that enter the mails.

Any business that is interstate commerce.

The measure is limited to interstate and federal business because the jurisdiction of congress does not extend to state affairs. However, it is planned to seek a state law in addition to the federal statutes.

FOUR MEN ARE KILLED IN AIR PLANE CRASH

LEFT WING OF PLANE CRUMBLES WHEN 600 FEET UP AND FALLS

Modesta, Calif., July 14—Four men were killed here today in an airplane accident. The left wing of the plane crumbled when about six hundred feet above the ground. The plane caught fire as it fell and within a few minutes was a mass of flames. The machine struck a high voltage wire in the fall.

The bodies were so badly burned that they were unrecognizable. Three of the bodies were thrown clear of the plane while the fourth was buried in the debris.

Spectators declared that they believed the four were dead before the machine struck the ground. The pilot of the plane was later identified as Bud Coffee, a Modesta boy. Coffee recently jumped into the limelight by carrying pictures of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight to San Francisco in record time for the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Officials learned that Coffee left Yosemite early today for Berkeley. With him were:

H. E. Jacuzzi, one of the builders of the monoplane.

John Kauke, of Berkeley.

James McLeish, of San Mateo.

Although no positive identification could be made they were the ones believed to have been killed.

The bodies were taken in charge by Coroner Carl W. Shannon and were removed to a chapel where efforts were made to identify the other three victims.

Live wires carrying heavy voltage were torn down by the plane and sizzled on the streets. Big crowds gathered but were kept away by guards.

Mrs. Burket is Arrested for Forgery

Indianapolis, July 14—Mrs. Emma Burket was arrested at Hillside today and is being held for New York authorities to answer a charge of forging the name of the late Theodore Roosevelt to a note of $69,900.

RECOMMENDS LIVESTOCK RATE REDUCTION

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14—A substantial decrease in freight rates on livestock in approximately two thirds of the United States, from the Pacific coast to the Mississippi and Chicago, and from the Gulf to Canada, was recommended today to the interstate commerce commission by Examiner Disque of the commission.

EUROPE IS GREATLY INTERESTED IN DISARMAMENT MEETING

ALL GREAT POWERS HAVE NOW ACCEPTED INVITATION—PEOPLE HOPE FOR RESULTS

(By United Press)

London, July 14—Europe today seethed with interest in President Harding's disarmament conference.

The situation in the principal countries was:

Great Britain—A bitter political fight raging over whether Premier Lloyd George shall lead the British delegation to Washington.

France—The press is filled with cynical comment on the proposed conference doubting whether France will derive any benefit from it.

Italy—The people are eager for disarmament hoping it will reduce the tax burden. The pope is understood to enthusiastically support Harding's proposal.

In Great Britain the principal topic is whether Premier Lloyd George shall head the delegation to Washington.

Investigate Second Class Postal Rates

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will appear before the senate finance committee today to give additional testimony regarding the need of broad discretionary powers in refunding the ten billion dollar allied war debt to the United States, Senator Penrose announced.

SHIFT IN DAWES' ECONOMY PLANS

DIRECTOR OF BUDGET DECIDES TO BEGIN SAVINGS ATTEMPTS WITH THIS YEAR.

MR. HARDING REQUESTED IT

It is Hoped That by August 1 the Situation Will Be Sufficiently Understood to Make Decisive Cuts in the Government Expenditures.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—There has been a sudden shift in the plans of Charles G. Dawes, director of the budget. In his preliminary statement concerning his work, which will be an attempt to cut the expenses of government, General Dawes said that he had but five months in which to prepare the budget for the opening session of congress in December, a budget which would outline probable expenses and probable revenues for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1922. Suddenly announcement is made that an attempt will be made to accomplish much saving during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1921.

President Harding called Budget Director Dawes into consultation and asked him if he did not think it would be possible to get the heads of the departments and of the bureaus together and to determine if it would not be possible to save a lot of money out of the sums already appropriated by congress for the fiscal year which was about to begin.

The director said, "I'll try." In his preliminary statement he had spoken of five months as an exceedingly short time in which to prepare for savings in the fiscal year which does not begin until the summer of 1922, and this shows what the exertion must be to accomplish a like result against the appropriations already made and which are to carry the government through the fiscal year which began July 1.

Of course the fiscal year already is here, and expenditures are being made, but by August 1 the hope is that there will be an understanding of the situation which will be thorough enough to enable decisive cuts to be made in the expenditures for the rest of the year. It is not believed in Washington that as much saving can be accomplished this year as next, a belief which is natural because of the necessity of working so rapidly in the work of present-day saving.

Meeting With Bureau Heads.

The day after President Harding and Director Dawes had their conference, a mass meeting of the heads of departments and bureaus was called. The various officials met in the auditorium of the department of interior, and President Harding presided, an unusual thing for a president to do. It was explained that the director had been asked to prepare an absolutely new budget and that its maximum it was hoped would be below the minimum amount provided for any existing governmental expenditures.

There seemed to be at the meeting an enthusiasm on the part of the chiefs of the various bureaus for the work which is in hand. They promised individually and collectively to study the situation and to report on all cases in which it seemed that money might be saved, and also to report on the ways and means of saving it.

It has been known for years that men who have been at the heads of bureaus in Washington for a long time always were anxious to make a showing of economy in their work, but they have been powerless in the face of the fact that appropriations were made for this work and that work, and although the chiefs might think that the cost was to be excessive, the actual spending of the money was in other hands, and it has become a truism that men who spend government money are anxious to spend it all, not necessarily simply because they want to spend it, but because they think perhaps that better results can be obtained by big purse methods.

Closer Supervision Needed.

It is believed in Washington that if government work could be carried on as the work of a good many private enterprises could be accomplished. In some government construction work there never has been the sharp supervision over the employees that an economical-minded superintendent of a private corporation exercises. In some ways Uncle Sam is an easy boss.

Of course as a result of a study of the budget, and of the enterprises for which the money is to be spent, attempts will be made to determine whether or not the work can be done at a less cost than the original appraisers thought it could be done. So, for instance, if ten million dollars are appropriated for a specific object and the students of the situation think it can be done for nine million dollars, a trial will be made and the treasury may benefit to the extent of one million dollars.

It must not be understood that the institution of the budget system will prevent congress from making any appropriations for anything that it sees fit. Congress cannot take away through the enactment of laws the powers which are granted to it by the Constitution.

DIRECTOR OF BUDGET DECIDES TO BEGIN SAVINGS ATTEMPTS WITH THIS YEAR.

MR. HARDING REQUESTED IT

It is Hoped That by August 1 the Situation Will Be Sufficiently Understood to Make Decisive Cuts in the Government Expenditures.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—There has been a sudden shift in the plans of Charles G. Dawes, director of the budget. In his preliminary statement concerning his work, which will be an attempt to cut the expenses of government, General Dawes said that he had but five months in which to prepare the budget for the opening session of congress in December, a budget which would outline probable expenses and probable revenues for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1922. Suddenly announcement is made that an attempt will be made to accomplish much saving during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1921.

President Harding called Budget Director Dawes into consultation and asked him if he did not think it would be possible to get the heads of the departments and of the bureaus together and to determine if it would not be possible to save a lot of money out of the sums already appropriated by congress for the fiscal year which was about to begin.

The director said, "I'll try." In his preliminary statement he had spoken of five months as an exceedingly short time in which to prepare for savings in the fiscal year which does not begin until the summer of 1922, and this shows what the exertion must be to accomplish a like result against the appropriations already made and which are to carry the government through the fiscal year which began July 1.

Of course the fiscal year already is here, and expenditures are being made, but by August 1 the hope is that there will be an understanding of the situation which will be thorough enough to enable decisive cuts to be made in the expenditures for the rest of the year. It is not believed in Washington that as much saving can be accomplished this year as next, a belief which is natural because of the necessity of working so rapidly in the work of present-day saving.

Meeting With Bureau Heads.

The day after President Harding and Director Dawes had their conference, a mass meeting of the heads of departments and bureaus was called.
 The various officials met in the auditorium of the department of interior, and President Harding presided, an unusual thing for a president to do.
 It was explained that the director had been asked to prepare an absolutely new budget and that its maximum it was hoped would be below the minimum amount provided for any existing governmental expenditures.

There seemed to be at the meeting an enthusiasm on the part of the chiefs of the various bureaus for the work which is in hand. They promised individually and collectively to study the situation and to report on all cases in which it seemed that money might be saved, and also to report on the ways and means of saving it.

It has been known for years that men who have been at the heads of bureaus in Washington for a long time always were anxious to make a showing of economy in their work, but they have been powerless in the face of the fact that appropriations were made for this work and that work, and although the chiefs might think that the cost was to be excessive, the actual spending of the money was in other hands, and it has become a truism that men who spend government money are anxious to spend it all, not necessarily simply because they want to spend it, but because they think perhaps that better results can be obtained by big purse methods.

Closer Supervision Needed.

It is believed in Washington that if government work could be carried on as the work of a good many private enterprises is carried on, great economies could be accomplished. In some government construction work there never has been the sharp supervision over the employees that an economical-minded superintendent of a private corporation exercises. In some ways Uncle Sam is an easy boss.

Of course as a result of a study of the budget, and of the enterprises for which the money is to be spent, attempts will be made to determine whether or not the work can be done at a less cost than the original appraisers thought it could be done. So, for instance, if ten million dollars are appropriated for a specific object and the students of the situation think it can be done for nine million dollars, a trial will be made and the treasury may benefit to the extent of one million dollars.

It must not be understood that the institution of the budget system will prevent congress from making any appropriations for anything that it sees fit. Congress cannot take away through the enactment of laws the powers which are granted to it by the Constitution.

 commemorated the birth of the flag with special patriotic exercises by his kindergarten pupils. Patriotic societies took up the observance and flag

PETROLEUM TARIFF OPPOSED

The proposed tariff on petroleum has aroused more opposition than almost any other feature of the new tariff bill, and it is possible that before it becomes a law, the oil tariff will be removed from the bill and both petroleum and fuel oil kept on the free list.

The law is generally favored by producers and refiners of oil in this country, although others do not think it wise to place a tariff on oil. The outlook is that foreign investments by American oil companies would be seriously threatened, however, as the majority of these companies send oil from Mexico and South America to the United States.

The argument is made that as the oil supply of this country is probably to be limited to less than a score of years at the present rate of consumption, the life of production in the United States should be extended as much as possible by the importation of all the oil that can be obtained abroad. As in all tariff questions, however, selfishness and misrepresentation figure very prominently in all discussions of the tariff on oil.

"CLEAN CARNIVALS"

The movement inaugurated by a number of our public-spirited citizens for "clean carnivals," if any, in Brainerd, is heartily endorsed by the general public. This movement had its origin in the strong public sentiment against gambling and other objectionable features of the usual traveling carnival companies. As the carnivals that have visited Brainerd for several years have appeared under the auspices of the Park Commission, giving the board a liberal percentage of their receipts, a committee of citizens has undertaken to get up a carnival of their own for the benefit of the Commission. Their efforts in this direction will receive the substantial support of all good citizens. Everybody should prepare to spend a little money at the "home carnival" and help the Park Commission beautify the city's parks and boulevards.

LIVING COSTS COMING DOWN

Living costs are coming down—that is apparent to every one. They are going to come down further and faster. And for that very reason money is going to be easier, the industry and business of the country are going to become more normal, the nation is going to be better off and happier.

Of course prices are still high on many of the necessities of life, and without apparent reason therefor. But they must come down—if they don't come down soon the people will simply quit buying, which will bring them down fast enough. And the sooner this is done the sooner business will be stabilized and we will get back to President Harding's "normalcy." It is bound to come.

"Industry generally is optimistic," a survey made by the department of labor reports, and while the likelihood of a dull summer in almost all lines is fully recognized, the tendency is to count on improvement by fall and a healthy, though not spectacular business revival by the spring of 1922.

Prices for wheat and other grains have declined to almost the pre-war level and in many cases are lower, when the cost of shipment is figured. With extremely low prices the cost of moving the grain is higher than it was during the war period, it is claimed.

Geo. H. Heisey, of St. Paul, who has been secretary to United States Senator Frank B. Kellogg for the past three years, has resigned his position and it is said will come to Brainerd to practice law. Adolph Giese of Lanesboro, is now secretary to the senator.

The Credit Clearing House of New York, in its weekly statement of merchandizing activities summarized from reports by manufacturers and wholesalers, shows a distinct advance as compared with the previous week.

Minnesota ranks fifth among the states of the Union in the total value of its farm lands and buildings, which, according to a bulletin issued by the census bureau, have a value of $3,301,168,325. This is a great agricultural state, and farm lands are rapidly increasing in value.

Certificate of Amendment of Certificate of Incorporation of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association

The undersigned president and secretary, respectively, of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association, a Minnesota corporation, hereby certify:

That at the annual meeting of said corporation, a majority of the stock being represented thereat, and duly held pursuant to notice, in the Gardner Auditorium, Brainerd, Minnesota, on June 14, 1921, at 3 o'clock P. M., the following resolutions amendatory of the Articles of Incorporation of said company, were adopted by unanimous vote, to-wit: Resolved, That Article 6, of the Articles of Incorporation of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be $150,000.00, divided into 500 shares of $100.00 each, or $50,000.00 par value, which shall be common stock, and 4000 shares of $25.00 each, or $100,000.00, par value, which shall be preferred stock, all of which shall be issued and paid in at such times and in such manner and in such amounts as shall be prescribed by the Board of Directors. The holders of the common stock of this corporation shall be entitled to one vote for each share of common stock held by them.

The preferred stock of this corporation shall be entitled to receive when and as declared from the surplus or net profits of the corporation, or otherwise, yearly dividends at the rate of six per centum, and no more. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be cumulative and shall be payable before any dividends on the common stock shall be paid or set apart, so that if in any year dividends amounting to six per centum shall not have been paid thereon, the deficiency shall be payable before any dividends shall be paid or set apart on the common stock. In the event of any liquidation or dissolution or winding up of the corporation, the holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to be paid both the par amount of their stock and the unpaid dividends accrued thereon before any amount shall be paid to the holders of the common stock.

Said preferred stock is subject to redemption at the option of the Board of Directors at any time by giving the holders thereof thirty days' notice in writing at $26.00 per share and any accumulated and accrued dividends.

The preferred stock shall not be entitled to vote at stockholders' meetings of the company nor to participate in the profits beyond its fixed preferential annual dividends not to exceed six per centum.

RESOLVED, That Article 7, of the Articles of Incorporation of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows: The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be $100,000.00.

In Testimony Whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals as president and secretary, respectively, of said corporation, and have hereunto caused to be affixed the seal of said corporation, this 14th day of June, 1921.

On Motorcycle Tour From Coast to Coast

Traveling from New York to Brainerd in an Indian Motorcycle and sidecar, and appearing in a comedy vaudeville skit at the theaters on the way Eddie Granville and Dolly Fields are today stopping at Brainerd to visit the City of Pines of the Great Northwest before resuming their journey.

The motorcycleists will put on their act on Thursday evening at the Park theatre. Their performance consists of a singing, talking, and dancing number, in which they use the motorcycle in which they are traveling.

In each city which they visit they secure the signatures of the mayor and chief of police. They obtained the signatures of Mayor Little and Chief Varner this morning, and state that in none of the 266 cities they have previously visited were they accorded such reception.

The dress which Miss Fields wears in her vaudeville act is a crocheted garment which she made herself in two weeks while traveling in the sidecar of the motorcycle with which she and her partner are making their trip.

The balance of the vaudeville consists of special novelty numbers consisting of juggling, acrobatic tumbling, singing, dancing and talking numbers.

Picture at New Park

A murder mystery with a most unexpected solution forms the basis of the plot of "A Voice in the Dark," a new picture, which comes to the New Park theatre for today. It is a Frank Lloyd production, and declared to be a masterpiece.

The surprise element of the play is carefully followed out, so that the audience until the very final scenes, does not know the identity of the murderer.

Fatty Woods in the Movies at Lyceum Theatre

"The Spenders," Benjamin B. Hampton's photoplay of Harry Leon Wilson's famous novel which opened at the Lyceum theatre last night.

It is a masterpiece, both as a photoplay primarily, and as a novel on the silver sheet. A perfect reproduction of the novel in story, characterization and setting, it carries to the screen the well-known Harry Leon Wilson humor, unique and unexcelled.

The prominent roles are interpreted by a cast of the screen's best character stars. Joseph J. Dowling, the "Miracle Man," takes the role of "Uncle Peter Blues," a character said to surpass the masterpieces of Sol Smith Russell and W. H. Crane in whimsical humor and humanness. Robert McKim plays "Rulon Shepherd" with his usual power and virility. Beautiful young Claire Adams, who has recently become a Benjamin B. Hampton star after smashing successes in previous pictures for that producer, demonstrates once more that she is a coming genius of the silver sheet in her work as "Avice Milbery." Niles Welch is the ideal romantic hero as "Percival Blues" and last but not least "Fatty Woods" the popular Brainerd young man takes the part of one of "The Spenders" and hundreds were out to see him "net" in the movies last night. The same program shows again tonight.

A Real Optimist.

The other day we heard of a real optimist—a woman who stood watching her house burn down in a community with no fire protection and weak water pressure. She remarked: "Well, anyhow, I'm glad I went to the movies yesterday instead of washing my windows."

NEW HOME TOWN CARNIVAL CO.

Formal Organization is Completed at Meeting Held in Chamber of Commerce Tuesday

THE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Project to be Underwritten So As to Safeguard Park Board from Losing Guarantee

Although the many other meetings throughout the city kept many away from the "Home Town Carnival" meeting an enthusiastic group of representative citizens turned out and organized the Home Town Carnival Association. The association was given power to go ahead and attend to a carnival for this year and expect to form a permanent organization in the near future to go ahead with subsequent carnivals in future years. The election of officers resulted in the election of Carl Wright, president; O. J. Bouma, vice-president; Henry Clarke, secretary; and A. C. Mraz, treasurer.

The four elective officers were empowered to select five more men to act with themselves as an executive board for the Carnival Association, this body to have full power to act for the association in putting on the carnival for this year.

President Wright appointed Rev. E. A. Cooke, O. J. Bouma and H. D. Hoffmann as a committee to confer with the Park Board at their meeting Wednesday afternoon, as this carnival as well as the carnivals of the past will be for the benefit of the Park Board.

James Arneson who represents the Little Giant Carnival Co. was present and the committee is considering a proposition from him to assist in making this first Home Town Carnival a success by furnishing some of the attractions such as riding devices. The Park Board accepted the terms of the committee at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

HATS OF THE HOUR

Parisiennes Are Devoted to the Cloche Shapes.

Enormous Picture Types, Worn by Pretty Women, Are Conspicuous at the Races.

At the fashionable race meetings and in all the smartest restaurants, asserts a Paris fashion writer, one recognizes that a war of hats is in full swing. Quite early in the spring season Lewis—who has great influence in the feminine world—announced the speedy arrival of very large picture hats, with wide, flat brims and rather low crowns.

And side by side with these models he showed—at Monte Carlo and Biarritz—cavalier hats of remarkable outline, the sort of hat that Cécile Sorel has always worn.

Now it happens that the more eclectic Parisiennes have become devoted to cloche shapes—large and small. In fact, so devoted are they to these charming styles that nothing can induce them to look, seriously, at other models. The favorite hat of the hour remains the cloche—large or small.

At the races one sees enormous picture hats worn by very pretty women, but these are almost always mannequins, who have been paid to show off some particular style. It is a rare thing to see a real Parisian elegant wearing a remarkably wide-brimmed hat. We shall watch this little military war with interest.

At least two of the most influential milliners in Paris are determined to make big flat-brimmed picture hats popular, but no one can say, decidedly, that this effort will be really successful.

ful—just as no one can predict the future of the quaint 1830 dresses which are now shown in every important exhibition of models.

At any rate it is safe to say that modified cloche shapes will remain fashionable all through the summer months and well into the autumn.

SOME FRILLS OF FASHION

Embroideries show an oriental influence.

Wool trotteurs are smartly trimmed with laced ribbon.

The newest fans are of dyed coque feathers mounted in tortoise shell.

A perky little vest of white linen embroidered with black silk lives up to the dark tailleur.

The smart shoes are showing all-black underwear. Even milady's night robe is a thing of clinging black lines and laces.

Several smart hats have a high back trimming which simulates Spanish combs. These often are made of lace or plaited mallines.

Sashes are forming the trains of some of the new gowns. A wide swath of ribbon, which winds around the figure and trails on the floor in lengths is often finished with deep fringe.

Some of the newest undergarments are golden as to color and made of soft satin. Others are almost the patchwork which our grandmothers did—squares of handsome silk, put together fantastically.

As the season progresses one will see the gay hats bedecked with cherries, which are now being worn uncovered, draped with black lace which in many cases will reach to the elbow. The lace invariably is very soft.

Sheer Stockings.

The warmer the weather grows the sheerer become milady's stockings. The sheerness of chiffon silk in stockings began with the blacks, but now has spread to many of the fashionable colors, some of which add so much to the effect of the sheerness as to make one look twice to see if any stockings are being worn at all. The cobweb weaves are coming within reach this season, too, and may be had now in the smart shops for lower prices. Some of the sheerest shades are grays, sand, beige, cordovan, African brown and blue.

If Gloves Wear.

If your otherwise good gloves have worn through at the finger tips, turn them inside out and stitch around the tips of them. Then pull them together and they will have the finish of a new glove.

Ruffles and Collars.

Dainty blouses have round collars trimmed with ruffles, which are edged with color.

BIRDS ATTACK COMMON ENEMY

Feathered Creatures Gather in Flock to Drive Away and Punish Marauding Squirrel.

I was approaching casually a small copse, being attracted by the chatter of many birds. I got as near as I could without disturbing them and saw a squirrel being attacked by six missel thrushes and two jackdaws. Every time it climbed a few feet two or more birds would swoop down and flap their wings at the terrified animal. This continued for about three minutes. As I got closer the commotion ceased and the exhausted squirrel scrambled up to a fork in the tree, where it lay motionless, apparently completely out of breath. A careful search revealed no thrushes' nests, but twenty yards away the jackdaws had a nest in an old tree. I wonder if any of your readers could give an explanation of this attack on an inoffensive little animal.—G. Fox Rules, Osborne, Isle of Wight.

The little animal is not quite so inoffensive as supposed, and the birds know it. Squirrels whenever they have a chance will help themselves both to eggs and young birds, so that naturally when detected they get "muddled."—Ed.—From the Field.

Dollar Sign in Brazil.

The monetary unit in Brazil is the Portuguese real, though in theory only, for no such coin exists; hence in practice only the plural reis is used and the unit is really the milreis, or one thousand reis. For some years the milreis had remained at the fixed value of 15 to the English pound, or about 3,250 reis to the American dollar. In larger transactions the unit is the conto, one million reis. Gold is never seen in circulation in Brazil. From the milreis to the conto there are paper notes, silver coins from five hundred to two thousand reis and nickel pieces of four, two and one hundred, the last the token of popular parlance. The Brazilian places his dollar sign after the milreis and before the reis, so that 38250 means the equivalent of a whole dollar and the man who pays $500 for a newspaper or a small glass of ice cream does not feel that he has been unusually extravagant, at least if he has lived enough in Brazil to get the local point of view.

Street Crossings in Scarlet.

The employment of red bands to indicate street crossings, the advantages of which were demonstrated in recent experiments, is still under discussion. An early proposal for painting the crossings with red had, however, been abandoned because of the insufficient wearing qualities of the mixture, and the municipal administration has ordered red sandstone for crossings in Alsace which will provide durable safety zones showing where pedestrians may venture without risk. It is suggested that it would be advisable to follow the example of America in drawing up strict regulations which would make the drivers of vehicles responsible in all cases for accidents occurring on the red band.—From Le Petit Parisien.

"Fuel for Nothing."

The case of a motor ship that trades between Europe and America without having to pay for fuel is mentioned by Motor Ship. The Buenos Aires, running between San Francisco and Scandinavia, loads up with 1,500 tons of fuel oil at San Francisco, sells 800 tons at Stockholm, and returns to America with some oil left in her tanks, having used 600 tons out of the 1,500 tons of her supply in her engines. She pays 7,500 pounds for her oil in San Francisco and sells 800 tons of it at Stockholm for 8,000 pounds. The fuel is carried mostly in the double bottom, and therefore does not detract from the ship's go-carrying capacity.

Portugal's Story

View of Lisbon Harbor.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

Portugal, one of the least known and least written about countries of Europe, owes this fact, in part at least, to its language. In spite of the claim made by some Portuguese that their speech is closer to the pure Latin than that of any of the other Romance peoples, students find that many Gothic, Arabic, and even Berber elements have strikingly altered the Latin foundation, making the language unusually difficult for those accustomed to the commoner European tongues.

But Portuguese is predominantly a Romance language, and Roman customs and practices have been just as tenacious in Portugal as the Roman tongue. Agriculture has hardly changed at all since the days when, under the protection of Roman legions, settlers came from Italy to the charming valleys of Portugal and introduced their methods of tilling the soil. The addition of maize to the crops grown is perhaps the one significant change since those days. Oxen are still used by the farmers as in old days, and they drag, not a modern implement of tillage, but the old primitive Roman plow consisting of crooked stick shod with iron and having a single handle. Grapes are trained upon trees as the Romans trained them, and wine is made in the peculiar way in which it was made on the Sabine farms of old Italy before the beginning of the Christian era.

Not Much Like Spain.

What is now the republic, but was for centuries the kingdom of Portugal, covers the greater part of the old province of Lusitania, one of the rich but hardly won units of the Roman empire. Because of general lack of knowledge in regard to Portugal, there has been a tendency to look on the country as a sort of poor imitation of Spain. Geographically, there is little in common between these two countries which together cover the Iberian peninsula. Much of Spain is a dry, barren tableland; but Portugal, sloping westward to the Atlantic from the east, is well watered, and many of its hills are covered with luxuriant forest growth.

The Romans recognized Lusitania to be fertile and desirable, and colonized it eagerly after the natives were subjugated. After the fall of the Roman empire, Portugal was overrun by the Visigoths from the north and later still by the Moors from the south. The results of the mingling of the blood of these two peoples with that of the inhabitants whom they found in Portugal is evident in the Portuguese of today.

The Tagus river, at the south of which is the beautiful capital and metropolis of the country, Lisbon, forms both an ethnic and economic dividing line. In the region to the north of the Tagus, comprising about three-fifths of the area of the country, are the more typical Portuguese. They are the Celtic, Gothic and Latin mixture with little or none of the Moorish or African strain. This northern region is a country of small farms largely cultivated by the proprietors and their families. The diffusion of the land among many independent owners has created a sturdy yeomanry which has been the backbone of Portuguese nationality. The people are intensely patriotic and have ever been ready to fight against foreign domination.

Famous for Its Wines.

Much of Portugal is hilly, and the little farms of the region north of the Tagus consist of a series of terraces. Near the northern boundary of the country in the valley of the Duero river and its tributaries is the most famous wine country of Portugal. It is estimated that in favorable years more than 20 gallons of wine are produced annually in Portugal for each man, woman and child in the country. Port and Madeira are the best known of the vintages. They are shipped through Oporto in great quantities, going chiefly to Great Britain and Brazil, but in less quantities to many other markets. Nearly two gallons of olive oil per inhabitant are produced each year. Portugal's cork forests are one of the chief sources of wealth for the country. From them comes nearly one-half of the cork produced in the world. The United States imports from Portugal about three-fourths of the cork which it uses.

South of the Tagus river the long occupation of the country by the Moors is evident not only through the architecture, but also because of the appearance of the people. Almost pure Berber types are met in many parts of the district.

Its Rise as a Kingdom.

There was really no Portugal during Roman, Germanic and Moorish domination. Portugal may be considered to have begun to emerge for the first time in 1095 when the Spanish crown, having conquered a small part of the northern portion of the present Portugal, made it an hereditary countyship. The rise of Portugal from this small beginning to an important kingdom and then an empire constitutes perhaps the most spectacular development of a nation to be found in modern history. The son of the first count, Alfonso Henriques, made his country independent of Spain and himself its king. He then began what was practically a crusade against the Moors to the south, and with the assistance of Christian knights from other countries of Europe, succeeded in driving the infidels from Lisbon in 1147. He and his successors continued the fight, and by about the hundredth anniversary of the fall of Lisbon the entire area of the present Portugal had been freed of Moorish dominion.

The country continued to grow in importance, wealth and power. Prince Henry the Navigator became the patron of navigation early in the fifteenth century, and under his encouragement Portugal's great page of discovery and colonization began to be written. The Portuguese were the first of the Europeans to have the necessary vision to make an ordered search for the hidden places of the earth; and their sailors were the first to establish contact between Europe and a large part of the then unknown world, both east and west.

But if the rise of Portugal was rapid, its fall from great power and wealth was equally swift. Its man power was severely drained to take care of its extensive possessions and its even broader spheres of influence. Even then colonial affairs were managed rather poorly and there came the inevitable reaction. Weak kings at home with spendthrift proclivities combined to undermine Portugal's rapidly built overseas empire; and the competition of other nations which went about the building of empires more methodically was no unimportant factor in the displacing of Portugal from the foremost position in world affairs which she had won so quickly and with such seeming ease.

Even though shorn of many of its former possessions, Portugal still controls more than 800,000 square miles of colonial dependencies, chiefly in Africa. The possession of this extensive territory makes Portugal the fourth colonial power of the world, if Russia be disregarded.

THREE BILLION IN WAGES LOST

BY THE BUILDING TRADES WORKERS THE PAST BECAUSE OF INACTIVITY

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 14—Three billion dollars in wages was lost by the building trades laborers during the last twelve months because of inactivity in construction, Daniel Crawford, Jr., of Philadelphia, told the national association of real estate board meeting here Wednesday.

The inflation which he said bankers permitted between the spring of 1919 and fall of 1920, was blamed for the tieup by Crawford.

"Not more than twenty-five per cent of $6,125,000,000 worth of building contemplated for this year will be started," he said.

Labor, he said, must consent to a wage reduction before the building industry can be fully revived. J. Kerby, president of the Discount company of Cleveland, said that although commodity prices would never reach the 1914 level, a satisfactory deflation was taking place.

"America can not experience business depression," he said.

Munition Workers Favor Disarmament

HAROLD JACOBS,

(Copyright 1921 by the United Press)

July 14—American munition makers today placed themselves on record in favor of limitation of armament.

Men whose business interests would receive huge profits through war endorsed President Harding's proposed disarmament conference both from a humanitarian and economic standpoint.

Chief among those who declared for armament limitation in statements to the United Press, was Irene Dupont, president of the E. I. Dupont Denemours company, largest powder manufacturers in the world. Dupont revealed that his concern had scrapped and dismantled 97 per cent of the plants which provided the United States and the allies with powder during the war.

The veteran Maxim favors a five year war truce to enable all nations to determine the proper extent of armament curtailment.

STOCK YARD WORKERS' PAY WILL NOT BE CUT 5 CENTS HR.

ACCORDING TO THE RULING OF ARBITRATOR, AS ASKED FOR BY PACKERS

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 14—Sixty-five thousand stock yards workers over the country won a victory when Judge Samuel Alchuler, arbitrator, refused the request of the five big packers to reduce pay five cents an hour.

Judge Alchuler ruled that the cost of living had not sufficiently declined to warrant the cut.

He gave the packers concessions, however, when he ruled the men could work one hour overtime three days a week and be paid straight time instead of time and one half.

Severe Old Forest Laws.

Forest laws in England were instituted by William the Conqueror, and were so severe that they provided death for a man killing a deer.

Imitating Hard Woods Not Difficult.
It is worth knowing that soft woods, treated with oil 'satin' finished over with two coats of varnish or varnish and wax, can be made to resemble closely light or dark oak, cherry, mahogany, walnut, or mission oak. The work does not require any exceptional skill and the result is invariably well worth the effort.—Popular Science Monthly.

Thought Cardinal Undernourished.
Cardinal Manning was extremely thin and emaciated. His emaciation was visiting a convent in Liverpool where an Irishwoman was cook. She was presented to the cardinal, and, after receiving his blessing, she looked up at him, and said: "May the Lord preserve your emaciation, and oh, may God forgive your cook!"

PETROLEUM TARIFF OPPOSED

The proposed tariff on petroleum has aroused more opposition than almost any other feature of the new tariff bill, and it is possible that before it becomes a law, the oil tariff will be removed from the bill and both petroleum and fuel oil kept on the free list.

The law is generally favored by producers and refiners of oil in this country, although others do not think it wise to place a tariff on oil. The outlook is that foreign investments by American oil companies would be seriously threatened, however, as the majority of these companies send oil from Mexico and South America to the United States.

The argument is made that as the oil supply of this country is probably to be limited to less than a score of years at the present rate of consumption, the life of production in the United States should be extended as much as possible by the importation of all the oil that can be obtained abroad. As in all tariff questions, however, selfishness and misrepresentation figure very prominently in all discussions of the tariff on oil.

"CLEAN CARNIVALS"

The movement inaugurated by a number of our public-spirited citizens for "clean carnivals," if any, in Brainerd, is heartily endorsed by the general public. This movement had its origin in the strong public sentiment against gambling and other objectionable features of the usual traveling carnival companies. As the carnivals that have visited Brainerd for several years have appeared under the auspices of the Park Commission, giving the board a liberal percentage of their receipts, a committee of citizens has undertaken to get up a carnival of their own for the benefit of the Commission. Their efforts in this direction will receive the substantial support of all good citizens. Everybody should prepare to spend a little money at the "home carnival" and help the Park Commission beautify the city's parks and boulevards.

LIVING COSTS COMING DOWN

Living costs are coming down—that is apparent to every one. They are going to come down further and faster. And for that very reason money is going to be easier, the industry and business of the country are going to become more normal, the nation is going to be better off and happier.

Of course prices are still high on many of the necessities of life, and without apparent reason therefor. But they must come down—if they don't come down soon the people will simply quit buying, which will bring them down fast enough. And the sooner this is done the sooner business will be stabilized and we will get back to President Harding's "normalcy." It is bound to come.

"Industry generally is optimistic," a survey made by the department of labor reports, and while the likelihood of a dull summer in almost all lines is fully recognized, the tendency is to count on improvement by fall and a healthy, though not spectacular business revival by the spring of 1922.

Prices for wheat and other grains have declined to almost the pre-war level and in many cases are lower, when the cost of shipment is figured. With extremely low prices the cost of moving the grain is higher than it was during the war period, it is claimed.

Geo. H. Helsey, of St. Paul, who has been secretary to United States Senator Frank B. Kellogg for the past three years, has resigned his position and it is said will come to Brainerd to practice law. Adolph Giese of Lanesboro, is now secretary to the senator.

The Credit Clearing House of New York, in its weekly statement of merchandizing activities summarized from reports by manufacturers and wholesalers, shows a distinct advance as compared with the previous week.

Minnesota ranks fifth among the states of the Union in the total value of its farm lands and buildings, which, according to a bulletin issued by the census bureau, have a value of $3,301,168,325. This is a great agricultural state, and farm lands are rapidly increasing in value.

Certificate of Amendment of Certificate of Incorporation of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association

The undersigned president and secretary, respectively, of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association, a Minnesota corporation, hereby certify:

That at the annual meeting of said corporation, a majority of the stock being represented thereat, and duly held pursuant to notice, in the Gardner Auditorium, Brainerd, Minnesota, on June 14, 1921, at 3 o'clock P. M., the following resolutions amendatory of the Articles of Incorporation, of said company, were adopted by unanimous vote, to-wit: Resolved, That Article 6, of the Articles of Incorporation of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be $150,000.00, divided into 500 shares of $300.00 each, or $50,000.00 par value, which shall be common stock, and 4000 shares of $25.00 each, or $100,000.00, par value, which shall be preferred stock, all of which shall be issued and paid in at such times and in such manner and in such amounts as shall be prescribed by the Board of Directors. The holders of the common stock of this corporation shall be entitled to one vote for each share of common stock held by them.

The preferred stock of this corporation shall be entitled to receive when and as declared from the surplus or net profits of the corporation, or otherwise, yearly dividends at the rate of six per centum, and no more. Dividends on the preferred stock shall be cumulative and shall be payable before any dividends on the common stock shall be paid or set apart, so that if in any year dividends amounting to six per centum shall not have been paid thereon, the deficiency shall be payable before any dividends shall be paid or set apart on the common stock. In the event of any liquidation or dissolution or winding up of the corporation, the holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to be paid both the par amount of their stock and the unpaid dividends accrued thereon before any amount shall be paid to the holders of the common stock.

Said preferred stock is subject to redemption at the option of the Board of Directors at any time by giving the holders thereof thirty days' notice in writing at $25.00 per share and any accumulated and accrued dividends. The preferred stock shall not be entitled to vote at stockholders' meetings of the company nor to participate in the profits beyond its fixed preferential annual dividends not to exceed six per centum.

RESOLVED, That Article 7, of the Articles of Incorporation of the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows: The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be $100,000.00.

In Testimony Whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals as president and secretary, respectively, of said corporation, and have hereunto caused to be affixed the seal of said corporation, this 14th day of June, 1921.

AMUSEMENTS

On Motorcycle Tour From Coast to Coast

Traveling from New York to Fresno in an Indian Motorcycle and sidecar, and appearing in a comedy vaudeville skit at the theaters on the way Eddie Granville and Dolly Field's are today stopping at Brainerd to visit the City of Pines of the Great Northwest before resuming their journey.

The motorcycleists will put on their act on Thursday evening at the Park theatre. Their performance consists of a singing, talking, and dancing number, in which they use the motorcycle in which they are traveling.

In each city which they visit they secure the signatures of the mayor and chief of police. They obtained the signatures of Mayor Little and Chief Varner this morning, and state that in none of the 200 cities they have previously visited were they cordially received by the authorities.

The dress which Miss Fields wears in her vaudeville act is a crocheted garment which she made herself in two weeks while traveling in the sidecar of the motorcycle with which she and her partner are making their trip.

The balance of the vaudeville consists of special novelty numbers consisting of juggling, acrobatic tumbling, singing, dancing and talking numbers.

Picture at New Park

A murder mystery with a most unexpected solution forms the basis of the plot of "A Voice in the Dark," a new picture, which comes to the New Park theatre for today. It is a Frank Lloyd production, and declared to be a masterpiece.

The surprise element of the play is carefully followed out, so that the audience until the very final scenes, does not know the identity of the murderer.

Fatty Woods in the Movies at Lyceum Theatre

"The Spenders," Benjamin F. Hampton's photoplay of Harry Leon Wilson's famous novel which opened at the Lyceum theatre last night.

It is a masterpiece, both as a photoplay primarily, and as a novel on the silver sheet. A perfect reproduction of the novel in story, characterization and setting, it carries to the screen the well-known Harry Leon Wilson humor, unique and unexcelled.

The prominent roles are interpreted by a cast of the screen's best character stars. Joseph J. Dowling the "Miracle Man" takes the role of "Uncle Peter Blues," a character said to surpass the masterpieces of Sol Smith Russell and W. H. Crane in whimsical humor and humanness. Robert McKim plays "Rulon Shepherd" with his usual power and virility. Beautiful young Claire Adams, who has recently become a Benjamin B. Hampton star after smashing successes in previous pictures for that producer, demonstrates once more that she is a coming genius of the silver sheet in her work as "Avice Milbery." Niles Welch is the ideal romantic hero as "Percival Blues" and last but not least "Fatty Woods" the popular Brainerd young man takes the part of one of "The Spenders" and hundreds were out to see him "act" in the movies last night. The same program shows again tonight.

A Real Optimist.

The other day we heard of a real optimist—a woman who stood watching her house burn down in a community with no fire protection and weak water pressure. She remarked: "Well, anyhow, I'm glad I went to the movies yesterday instead of washing my windows."

Small "Home Library."

Many years ago the old-fashioned "almanack" was regarded as a household necessity. Hutchins' almanac issued in 1759 for the ensuing year contained the usual ephemera of the sun, moon, planets and zodiacal signs. Its literary offering consisted of 14 select pieces of poetry and 10 moral essays, which might be of great utility, viz.: A sure cure for rheumatism; a cure for the most malignant fevers and a cure for the stomach.

STATE LABOR MEN COMING TO CITY

State Federation of Labor Has Convention Within Conventions, Same to be Held Sunday

FORMAL OPENING ON MONDAY

All Meetings of Labor Men are Open to Public and to be Held in the Gardner Auditorium

One of the conventions within a convention of the State Federation of Labor, will be that of the Minnesota State Branch Conference of Strain and Operating Engineers. There will be about 25 delegates from all over the state.

They will meet at 7 p. m. Sunday, July 17 at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. A. L. Rich of St. Paul is the secretary-treasurer of the organization. Mr. Rich is a former chief deputy state boiler inspector. They will consider rules governing their trade, etc.

Lawson Arrives

George W. Lawson of St. Paul, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, arrived in Brainerd Thursday afternoon and will spend his time here looking after convention details. His headquarters and that of all Federation officers will be at the Ransford hotel.

President E. G. Hall of Minneapolis, is expected in Brainerd Thursday or Friday to assist in convention preparations.

Rooms Needed

The appeal for rooms has produced results and they are being listed with O. J. Bouma, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. All people having furnished sleeping rooms they wish to rent July 17, 18 and 19 should promptly telephone the Chamber of Commerce secretary, Phone 155.

Tuesday Afternoon, July 19

Delegates to the federation meeting will be given an automobile trip about Brainerd and its environment Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock by citizens. All wishing to donate the use of their cars should notify the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, telephone 155.

Dance for Delegates

A dance will be given in honor of the delegates and their ladies on Tuesday evening, July 19, at Gardner auditorium. The Blue Ribbon orchestra will play.

Convention Attendance

Brainerd labor men expect an attendance of delegates numbering close to 500. They will be accompanied by many friends attracted to Brainerd on account of its lake resorts. Many will stay over and spend some time at the lakes.

Minnesota Typographical Unions

The Minnesota Typographical Union will also be early on the scene and hold a meeting Sunday, July 17. The local typographical union will banquet the visitors at Grand View Lodge Sunday evening.

Seek Convention

Duluth and St. Cloud are understood to have entered field for convention honors of 1922. Mankato also suspected of convention ambitions.

Working Peoples Nonpartisan League

The Working Peoples' Nonpartisan Political League will hold its own annual convention in Brainerd at the Gardner auditorium Sunday afternoon and evening. Thomas Van Lear, candidate for mayor of Minneapolis, is the secretary-treasurer of this organization. J. Mahoney, who ran for mayor of St. Paul, is the president of the association.

Federation Conventions

All sessions of the State Federation of Labor will be held in Gardner auditorium and are open to the public.

The opening meeting of the labor convention is set for Monday morning, July 18, at 10 o'clock. The address of welcome will be given by Mayor F. E. Little. Former Mayor H. P. Dunn, who was executive of Brainerd when the last labor convention was held here, will speak next. D. D. Schrader, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Brainerd, will speak for that body. Rev. J. E. Cadwell, pastor of the Peoples Congregational church of Brainerd, will deliver the invocation.

The convention dates are from July 18 to 20 inclusive and if there is much business may extend beyond July 20th.

Fireside Club

The Fireside Club of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will meet on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Jernberg, 1520 Pine street, S. E. Everybody welcome.

FORD DEALERS

Scores Attended the Sales Conference Held at Rocky Point on Wednesday, July 13

Scores of Ford dealers attended the state convention at Rocky Point, Gud Lake, near Brainerd, as arranged for by C. C. Hildebrand of Minneapolis. A delicious dinner was enjoyed at the resort, after which addresses were made and salesmanship talks, etc.

Among the early arrivals at the conference were J. H. Grill and wife of the Grill Motor Co. of Fairmont; Charles Grill of the Grill Motor Co. of Sherburne; E. R. Robinson of Floodwood; Henry Hughes of Grand Rapids; M. Fredrickson and Louis Hallum of Aitkin; Fred Bergquist of Moose Lake; Carl J. Lof of Cloquet; D. S. Webb of Superior; S. Tennoorde of St. Cloud; E. A. Berg of Little Falls; T. F. Belle of Royalton; Anton Thompson of Henning; Val J. Korkival of Holdingford.

The new headquarters of the Woodhead Motor Co. at 412-414-416-418 South Seventh street were inspected and many compliments were expressed as to its arrangement and design.

LATE BULLETINS

Has Always Been Insane

Cleveland, Ohio, July 14—Mrs. Katherine Eva Kaber, on trial for the murder of her husband, Daniel P. Kaber, has been insane since her birth, according to testimony given at the trial today by Dr. James C. Russell.

Krupp Works Busy

Berlin, July 14—The Krupp works, which in the past were synonymous with war, are literally beating swords into plowshares.

The metal derived from scrapping cannon, tanks and other engines of destruction, is being used by the reorganized Grupp concern in manufacturing agricultural machines, locomotives and other peace commodities.

Favors Committee to Negotiate With Canada

Washington, July 14—The resolution of Senator Underwood providing for the appointment of a commission to negotiate with Canada for removal of the restriction on the export of wood pulp from the Crownlands in the Canadian provinces was favorably reported by the house foreign affairs committee today.

Acceptance of it is expected in the house shortly after the passage of the tariff bill.

Postmaster Appointed

Washington, July 14—President Harding today sent to the senate the nomination of Fred A. Scott to be postmaster of Devils Lake, N. D.

Michigan Sells $5,000,000 Bonus Bonds

New York, July 14—Michigan soldier bonus bonds amounting to $5,000,000, were sold in about three hours by a syndicate of New York bankers. The bonds are of twenty year maturity and will draw five and one half per cent interest.

The syndicate at the same time sold $10,000,000 worth of Michigan state highway bonds.

Thunder Showers, Lower Temperature

Washington, July 14—Thunder showers will prevail over most of the territory east of the Mississippi during the next thirty-six hours, the weather bureau stated today. Lower temperature will prevail tonight in the upper lake region and Friday in the lower lake region.

and greater expenditures each biennium. This has been because of the passage by the legislature of revenue-producing acts, and is as it should be. The department should produce revenue sufficient to maintain itself and inversely, should be permitted to use a sum equal to its revenues in carrying on its work.

Warden Service

"The warden service has been enlarged to some extent during the two years and the men in service have proven efficient and active. Their work has been multifarious, but in law enforcement has been unusually effective.

"The number of men in service has ranged from forty to fifty, varying with the requirements of the seasons and the work. During the two year period there were confiscated by wardens 43 carcasses and quantities of the meat of moose and deer, 36,000 pounds of fish, 452 game birds, 408 muskrats, 312 fish traps, 2,485 traps, 414 traps, besides a great quantity of miscellaneous articles used in violation of the law.

"The number of refugees now in effect, including state parks, is 46, the aggregate area being 2,694,146 acres.

Game Conditions

"Moose are permanently protected by the Superior Game Refuge. Deer require additional protection on account of the greatly increasing army of hunters and resultant heavy kill, amounting to over 18,000 animals a year. Waterfowl were tremendously abundant in the season of 1919. Grouse are increasing materially. Quail have not yet recovered from recent severe winters. Fur bearing animals are at a low ebb. Beaver have become a nuisance in some quarters. Commercial fisheries of the state are of great importance.

President's Report

President C. C. Hildebrand of Minneapolis, gave his report on the league since his election to office.

It was a worthy record of work well done by the league, of the extension of its activities of the campaign for law enforcement, for preservation of game, fish and bird life, etc.

Mr. Hildebrand early realized that the League could not become a power unless its organization was extended into every county in the state. He hung a Minnesota state map in his office and marked off locations of the twenty-seven clubs forming the league. He then listed 100 localities as yet unorganized and procuring a supply of stationery started his campaign.

In every town he had business associates. These men received a letter from Mr. Hildebrand impugning them to call a meeting of local sportsmen and organize a club. He sent follow-up letters. Mr. Hildebrand was indefatigable in his work, as is attested by Harry J. LaDue, field secretary of the league.

Other Officers Report

Reports were made by all the officers of the league at the afternoon session Thursday.

Thursday Evening

Thursday evening there will be speaking by men prominent in the work of various states looking to game preservation and propagation. There will be moving pictures of wild bird, animal and fish life.

CAME CONVENTION NOTES

The dancing of the Mille Lacs Indians has been one of the hits of the convention.

Donald Hough of the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, who has charge of Outing News of the publications, arrived in the car with Iva A. Coppe of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association.

John A. Oberg, former county commissioner, came from Deerwood to be a member of the welcoming committee.

350 times Clyde E. Parker of the official welcoming committee, has told what road to take to get to the convention.

The Barnesville Fish and Game club came in three fivers decorated with the signs, "Brainerd or Bust". They made Brainerd without busting and proceeded gaily on their respective ways to the convention grounds.

High Chief of the Concessions is D. A. Peterson. He is treasurer of the local game club. All contestants in the sports must register and prizes will be awarded by the treasurer.

A busy man is John F. Woodhead, secretary of the local game club. He is a general information bureau.

The baby Indian born at the convention has been named Henrietta Ford Skinaway.

The free-for-all for the fish catching contest is now under way. There are three prizes, $10, $5 and $3 for catching the largest fish during the convention; $5, $3 and $2 for the biggest wall-eyed pike; $5, $3 and $2 for the biggest bass; $5, $3 and $2 for the biggest fish caught by a lady.

Had there been a prize for the biggest fish story Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardle might have qualified.

Like the man who saw a Swiss sunset every evening back of his barn, he didn't get enthused about an every day occurrence. But when tourists expatiated on its beauties, he too became enthused. Same way with some of the natives living at the lakes. They never knew so many things about the lakes until enthusiastic visitors reeled it off for them.

The committee in charge of the horseshoe pitching contest at Rocky Point anticipates the strongest and most interesting horseshoe pitching contest ever held in this part of the state. The many valuable prizes in addition to the cash prizes are bringing contestants from all over the state. Some horseshoe pitching clubs from the southern part of the state have already sent in their registrations. All who wish to compete on Friday must be registered by 1 p. m. on Saturday. All registrations must be in by 10 a. m.

Farmers Attack Federal Reserve Board

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14—An attack on the federal reserve board and D. R. Crissinger, comptroller of currency, was made yesterday by representatives of organized farmers.

Maurice McAniffe, president of the farmers' union, told the congressional committee on agricultural inquiry that the assertions that Europe is wholly bankrupt constitute a propaganda by those interested in deflating farm prices. He charged deflation was deliberately designed and precipitated.

Portugal's Story

View of Lisbon Harbor.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

Portugal, one of the least known and least written about countries of Europe, owes this fact, in part at least, to its language. In spite of the claim made by some Portuguese that their speech is closer to the pure Latin than that of any of the other Romance peoples, students find that many Gothic, Arabic, and even Berber elements have strikingly altered the Latin foundation, making the language unusually difficult for those accustomed to the commoner European tongues.

But Portuguese is predominantly a Romance language, and Roman customs and practices have been just as tenacious in Portugal as the Roman tongue. Agriculture has hardly changed at all since the days when, under the protection of Roman legions, settlers came from Italy to the charming valleys of Portugal and introduced their methods of tilling the soil. The addition of maize to the crops grown is perhaps the one significant change since those days. Oxen are still used by the farmers as in old days, and they drag, not a modern implement of tillage, but the old primitive Roman plow consisting of crooked stick shod with iron and having a single handle. Grapes are trained upon trees as the Romans trained them, and wine is made in the peculiar way in which it was made on the Sabine farms of old Italy before the beginning of the Christian era.

Not Much Like Spain.

What is now the republic, but was for centuries the kingdom of Portugal, covers the greater part of the old province of Lusitania, one of the rich but hardly won units of the Roman empire. Because of general lack of knowledge in regard to Portugal, there has been a tendency to look on the country as a sort of poor imitation of Spain. Geographically, there is little in common between these two countries which together cover the Iberian peninsula. Much of Spain is a dry, barren tableland; but Portugal, sloping westward to the Atlantic from the east, is well watered, and many of its hills are covered with luxuriant forest growth.

The Romans recognized Lusitania to be fertile and desirable, and colonized it eagerly after the natives were subjugated. After the fall of the Roman empire, Portugal was overrun by the Visigoths from the north and later still by the Moors from the south. The results of the mingling of the blood of these two peoples with that of the inhabitants whom they found in Portugal is evident in the Portuguese of today.

The Tagus river, at the south of which is the beautiful capital and metropolis of the country, Lisbon, forms both an ethnic and economic dividing line. In the region to the north of the Tagus, comprising about three-fifths of the area of the country, are the more typical Portuguese. They are the Celtic, Gothic and Latin mixture with little or none of the Moorish or African strain. This northern region is a country of small farms largely cultivated by the proprietors and their families. The diffusion of the land among many independent owners has created a sturdy yeomanry which has been the backbone of Portuguese nationality. The people are intensely patriotic and have ever been ready to fight against foreign domination.

Famous for Its Wines.

Much of Portugal is hilly, and the little farms of the region north of the Tagus consist of a series of terraces. Near the northern boundary of the country in the valley of the Duero river and its tributaries is the most famous wine country of Portugal. It is estimated that in favorable years more than 20 gallons of wine are produced annually in Portugal for each man, woman and child in the country. Port and Madeira are the best known of the vintages. They are shipped through Oporto in great quantities, going chiefly to Great Britain and Brazil, but in less quantities to many other markets. Nearly two gallons of olive oil per inhabitant are produced each year. Portugal's cork forests are one of the chief sources of wealth for the country. From them comes nearly one-half of the cork produced in the world. The United States imports from Portugal about three-fourths of the cork which it uses.

South of the Tagus river the long occupation of the country by the Moors is evident not only through the architecture, but also because of the appearance of the people. Almost pure Berber types are met in many parts of the district.

Its Rise as a Kingdom.

There was really no Portugal during Roman, Germanic and Moorish domination. Portugal may be considered to have begun to emerge for the first time in 1095 when the Spanish crown, having conquered a small part of the northern portion of the present Portugal, made it an hereditary countyship. The rise of Portugal from this small beginning to an important kingdom and then an empire constitutes perhaps the most spectacular development of a nation to be found in modern history. The son of the first count, Alfonso Henriques, made his country independent of Spain and himself its king. He then began what was practically a crusade against the Moors to the south, and with the assistance of Christian knights from other countries of Europe, succeeded in driving the infidels from Lisbon in 1147. He and his successors continued the fight, and by about the hundredth anniversary of the fall of Lisbon the entire area of the present Portugal had been freed of Moorish dominion.

The country continued to grow in importance, wealth and power. Prince Henry the Navigator became the patron of navigation early in the fifteenth century, and under his encouragement Portugal's great page of discovery and colonization began to be written. The Portuguese were the first of the Europeans to have the necessary vision to make an ordered search for the hidden places of the earth; and their sailors were the first to establish contact between Europe and a large part of the then unknown world, both east and west.

But if the rise of Portugal was rapid, its fall from great power and wealth was equally swift. Its man power was severely drained to take care of its extensive possessions and its even broader spheres of influence. Even then colonial affairs were managed rather poorly and there came the inevitable reaction. Weak kings at home with spendthrift proclivities combined to undermine Portugal's rapidly built overseas empire; and the competition of other nations which went about the building of empires more methodically was no unimportant factor in the displacing of Portugal from the foremost position in world affairs which she had won so quickly and with such seeming ease.

Even though shorn of many of its former possessions, Portugal still controls more than 800,000 square miles of colonial dependencies, chiefly in Africa. The possession of this extensive territory makes Portugal the fourth colonial power of the world, if Russia be disregarded.

THREE BILLION IN WAGES LOST

BY THE BUILDING TRADE WORKERS THE PAST BECAUSE OF INACTIVITY

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 14—Three billion dollars in wages was lost by the building trades laborers during the last twelve months because of inactivity in construction, Daniel Crawford, Jr., of Philadelphia, told the national association of real estate board meeting here Wednesday.

The inflation which he said bankers permitted between the spring of 1919 and fall of 1920, was blamed for the tieup by Crawford.

"Not more than twenty-five percent of $6,125,000,000 worth of building contemplated for this year will be started," he said.

Labor, he said, must consent to a wage reduction before the building industry can be fully revived. J. Kerby, president of the Discount company of Cleveland, said that although commodity prices would never reach the 1914 level, a satisfactory deflation was taking place.

"America can not experience business depression," he said.

Munition Workers Favor Disarmament

HAROLD JACOBS,

(Copyright 1921 by the United Press)
July 14—American munition makers today placed themselves on record in favor of limitation of armament.

Men whose business interests would receive huge profits through war endorsed President Harding's proposed disarmament conference both from a humanitarian and economic standpoint.

Chief among those who declared for armament limitation in statements to the United Press, was Irene Dupont, president of the E. I. Dupont Denemours company, largest powder manufacturers in the world. Dupont revealed that his concern had scrapped and dismantled 97 per cent of the plants which provided the United States and the allies with powder during the war.

The veteran Maxim favors a five year war truce to enable all nations to determine the proper extent of armament curtailment.

STOCK YARD WORKERS' PAY WILL NOT BE CUT 5 CENTS HR.

ACCORDING TO THE RULING OF ARBITRATOR, AS ASKED FOR BY PACKERS

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 14—Sixty-five thousand stock yards workers over the country won a victory when Judge Samuel Alchuler, arbitrator, refused the request of the five big packers to reduce pay five cents an hour.

Judge Alchuler ruled that the cost of living had not sufficiently declined to warrant the cut.

He gave the packers concessions, however, when he ruled the men could work one hour overtime three days a week and be paid straight time instead of time and one half.

Severe Old Forest Laws.

Forest laws in England were instituted by William the Conqueror, and were so severe that they provided death for a man killing a deer.

Imitating Hard Woods Not Difficult.
It is worth knowing that soft woods, treated with oil 'satin finished over with two coats of varnish or varnish and wax, can be made to resemble closely light or dark oak, cherry, mahogany, walnut, or mission oak. The work does not require any exceptional skill and the result is invariably well worth the effort.—Popular Science Monthly.

Thought Cardinal Undernourished.
Cardinal Manning was extremely thin and emaciated. His eminence was visiting a convent in Liverpool where an Irishwoman was cook. She was presented to the cardinal, and, after receiving his blessing, she looked up at him, and said: "May the Lord preserve your eminence, and oh, may God forgive your cook!"

and greater expenditures each biennium. This has been because of the passage by the legislature of revenue-producing acts, and as it should be. The department should produce revenue sufficient to maintain itself and inversely, should be permitted to use a sum equal to its revenues in carrying on its work.

Warden Service

"The warden service has been enlarged to some extent during the two years and the men in service have proven efficient and active. Their work has been multifarious, but in law enforcement has been unusually effective.

"The number of men in service has ranged from forty to fifty, varying with the requirements of the seasons and the work. During the two year period there were confiscated by wardens 43 carcasses and quantities of the meat of moose and deer, 36,000 pounds of fish, 453 game birds, 493 snags, 312 fish nets, 2,485 pelts of fur-bearing animals, 411 traps, besides a great quantity of miscellaneous articles used in violation of the law.

"The number of refugees now in effect, including state parks, is 46, the aggregate area being 2,094,136 acres.

Game Conditions

"Moose are permanently protected by the Superior Game Refuge. Deer require additional protection on account of the greatly increasing army of hunters and resultant heavy kill amounting to over 18,000 animals a year. Waterfowl were tremendously abundant in the season of 1919. Grouse are increasing materially. Quail have not yet recovered from recent severe winters. Fur bearing animals are at a low ebb. Beaver have become a nuisance in some quarters. Commercial fisheries of the state are of great importance.

President's Report

President C. C. Hildebrand of Minneapolis, gave his report on the league since his election to office.

It was a worthy record of work well done by the league, of the extension of its activities of the campaign for law enforcement, for preservation of game, fish and bird life, etc.

Mr. Hildebrand early realized that the League could not become a power unless its organization was extended into every county in the state. He hung a Minnesota state map in his office and marked off locations of the twenty-seven clubs forming the league. He then listed 100 localities as yet unorganized and procuring a supply of stationery started his campaign.

In every town he had business associates. These men received a letter from Mr. Hildebrand importuning them to call a meeting of local sportsmen and organize a club. He sent follow-up letters. Mr. Hildebrand was indefatigable in his work, as is attested by Harry J. LaDuc, field secretary of the league.

Other Officers Report

Reports were made by all the officers of the league at the afternoon session Thursday.

Thursday Evening

Thursday evening there will be speaking by men prominent in the work of various state lookin to game preservation and propagation. There will be moving pictures of wild bird, animal and fish life.

GAME CONVENTION NOTES

The dancing of the Mille Laes Indians has been one of the hits of the convention.

Donald Hough of the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, who has charge of Outing News of the publications, arrived in the car with J. A. Coppe, of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association.

John A. Oberg, former county commissioner, came from Deerwood to be a member of the welcoming committee.

350 times Clyde E. Parker of the official welcoming committee, has told what road to take to get to the convention.

The Barnesville Fish and Game club came in three fivers decorated with the signs, "Brainerd or Bust". They made Brainerd without busting and proceeded gaily on their respective ways to the convention grounds.

High Chief of the Concessions is D. A. Peterson. He is treasurer of the local game club. All contestants in the sports must register and prizes will be awarded by the treasurer.

A busy man is John F. Woodhead, secretary of the local game club. He is a general information bureau.

The baby Indian born at the convention has been named Henrietta Ford Skinaway.

The free-for-all for the fish catching contest is now under way. There are three prizes, $10, $5 and $3 for catching the largest fish during the convention; $5, $3 and $2 for the biggest wall-eyed pike; $5, $3 and $2 for the biggest bass; $5, $3 and $2 for the biggest fish caught by a lady.

Had there been a prize for the biggest fish story Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardie might have qualified.

Like the man who saw a Swiss sunset every evening back of his barn, he didn't get enthused about an every day occurrence. But when tourists crystallized on its beauties, he too became enthused. Same way with some of the natives living at the lakes. They never knew so many things about the lakes until enthusiastic visitors reeled it off for them.

The committee in charge of the horseshoe pitching contest at Rocky Point anticipates the strongest and most interesting horseshoe pitching contest ever held in this part of the state. The many valuable prizes in addition to the cash prizes are bringing contestants from all over the state. Some horseshoe pitching clubs from the southern part of the state have already sent in their registrations. All who wish to compete on Friday must be registered by 1 p. m. on Saturday. All registrations must be in by 10 a. m.

Farmers Attack Federal Reserve Board

(By United Press)

Washington, July 14.—An attack on the federal reserve board and D. R. Crissinger, controller of currency, was made yesterday by representatives of organized farmers.

Maurice McAuliffe, president of the farmers' union, told the congressional committee on agricultural inquiry that the assertions that Europe is wholly bankrupt constitute a propaganda by those interested in deflating farm prices. He charged deflation was deliberately designed and precipitated.

DE VALERA HOPES PEACE CONFERENCE WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

SAYS ATMOSPHERE IN BOTH IRELAND AND ENGLAND FAVORS SUCCESS

(By United Press)
London, July 14.—Eamon DeValera shortly before opening the conference with Premier Lloyd George today, expressed confidence in the outcome of the Irish peace negotiations.

"I am sure the atmosphere for peace in both Ireland and Great Britain is extremely favorable," he declared in a statement to the United Press.

"All that remains is to get down to bedrock and negotiate a just peace."

Later, in addressing the correspondents in general, the Irish leader said:

"No country in the world needs to understand the logic of Ireland's cause as much as Britain, but as I am putting it officially before the representatives of Great Britain, it is obviously inopportune for me to speak at length in that regard."

Will Describe Revels On Stillman's Yacht

(By United Press)
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 14.—Revels in high society on James A. Stillman's yacht, Modesty, which belied the craft's name, were to be described in detail at the resumption of hearings in the Stillman divorce case today.

Stillman's attorneys announced that no defense would be made against evidence introduced to show their client's intimacy with Mrs. Florence Lawler Leeds, of whose three-year-old son

American Ships Now Sail Seven Seas

Twin Bed Staterooms, Private Baths and Nurseries for the Children Give Him of Luxuries Provided on Ships of the New American Merchant Marine

ANYWHERE in the world on an American ship! Americans no longer need go to sea or ship their goods in foreign bottoms. That, to-day, is the proud message from the National Capital to the American people.

From every port in the country now sail stately and luxurious vessels, under the American flag, carrying passengers and cargo to every country in the globe.

The nation, through the United States Shipping Board, is flinging a new Declaration of Independence to the world, independence of foreign vessels, for American travelers and commerce.

With a proud merchant fleet numbering 3,700 vessels of 15,533,890 deadweight tons (not including small ships), according to official figures compiled to May 1, it is now "up to" the people of the United States to keep that fleet on the seven seas. Of this great total the United States Shipping Board owns and controls 1,720 vessels of 11,139,468 deadweight tons.

"We must take the huge corporation, the largest the world has ever known, and make it an institution of which every American will be proud," declares Albert D. Lasker, chairman of the United States Shipping Board.

"Our Merchant Marine must be sustained if it is to be permanent," declares Rear Admiral W. S. Benson, commissioner of the United States Shipping Board.

Not only in quantity does the American fleet excel, but in quality. Here are some of the features of many American passenger vessels to which the traveling public has been accustomed only on big foreign liners—public rooms with palatial lounges and music rooms; palm garden verandas and writing rooms; ball rooms, glass enclosed promenades, swimming tanks, twin beds, shower and tub baths.

After forty-six years service in the United States Navy, during which time he saw the American flag, except on ships of war, almost disappear from the ocean, and now chief officer of the greatest single fleet of merchantmen ever constructed, Admiral Benson is asking his countrymen to support their fleet.

"We have the ships," he declares. "The United States Shipping Board is using every endeavor to build up this vast fleet into a profitable enterprise, but we need the co-operation of every American."

James Stillman is alleged to be the father. Mrs. Stillman's counsel were preparing to go ahead with carefully prepared plans to reveal "many interesting incidents in his life."

Frank Murphy, steward on the Stillman yacht, was to be the chief witness for Mrs. Stillman.

Among the things that may be made public are drinking bouts featured by golden cocktail snickers and domestic quarrels on the Modesty between Mrs. Leeds and other women alleged to have been friends of Stillman.

A reading circle in which lascivious books were read aloud in mixed company and parties in which the guests' attire was anything but Eskimo, are to be characterized.

Around the Clock.
"Yes, boys," continued the steep-telack, who was telling "true" and thrilling stories, "yes, I was working a clock tower one afternoon about 12 minutes to 6, when I slipped, slid down the roof and caught on the long hand of the clock. There I dangled while the town folks collected below. So I yelled to 'em, 'Say, you folks, go home to your suppers, it'll be close to half an hour before I drop.'—Houston Post.

Machine That Harvests Rice.
As rice has to be harvested in water, it was thought to be work which would always have to be done by human labor, but a machine has been invented which moves through the deep mud and gathers the grain. It is capable of performing many of the duties of the ordinary tractor.

New Weapon for War on Rats.
The exhaust of an automobile has been successfully used in driving away rats which resisted all previous efforts. The gas was turned into one of the rat holes and the rodents scampered out of others.

Friction—the Pickpocket of Industry

IF the loss to industry through unnecessary friction could be entirely eliminated, it would mean a saving of sufficient money to pay off the combined state debt of Illinois, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas in a single year.

—(Moody's Manual)

It would represent twice the value of all the vessels produced in the United States in a normal year, and would be greater in value than the annual rye, barley, or rice crop.

—(Statistical Abstract of U. S.)

The value of power lost to industry through friction has been estimated to reach the staggering total of $185,000,000 annually.

—(Industrial Oil Engineering)

Realizing that friction is an undesirable partner of industry, and feeling its obligation as the leader among manufacturers of lubricants, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has for years maintained a staff of lubricating engineers and lubricating chemists, whose business it has been to consult with industrial engineers to solve for them their individual lubricating problems as they are presented.

The services of these men are given without charge, and the saving effected has been great.

When it is realized that every machine presents a friction problem, and that every industry, from cotton goods to corn flakes is dependent on proper lubrication for turning out its product efficiently, one function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes more apparent.

DE VALERA HOPES
PEACE CONFERENCE WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

SAYS ATMOSPHERE IN BOTH IRELAND AND ENGLAND FAVORS SUCCESS

(By United Press)
London, July 14.—Eamonn DeValera shortly before opening the conference with Premier Lloyd George today, expressed confidence in the outcome of the Irish peace negotiations.
"I am sure the atmosphere for peace in both Ireland and Great Britain is extremely favorable," he declared in a statement to the United Press.
"All that remains is to get down to business and negotiate a just peace."
Later, in addressing the correspondents in general, the Irish leader said:
"No country in the world needs to understand the logic of Ireland's cause as much as Britain, but as I am putting it officially before the representatives of Great Britain, it is obviously inappropriate for me to speak at length in that regard."

Will Describe Revels
On Stillman's Yacht

(By United Press)
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 14.—Revels in high society on James A. Stillman's yacht, Modesty, which belied the craft's name, were to be described in detail at the resumption of hearings in the Stillman divorce case today.
Stillman's attorneys announced that no defense would be made against evidence introduced to show their client's intimacy with Mrs. Florence Lewis Leeds, of whose three year old son

American Ships Now Sail Seven Seas

Twin Bed Staterooms, Private Baths and Nurseries for the Children Give Hints of Luxuries Provided on Ships of the New American Merchant Marine

ANYWHERE in the world on an American ship, Americans no longer need go to sea or ship their goods in foreign bottoms. That, to-day, is the proud message from the National Capital to the American people.

From every port in the country now sail stately and luxurious vessels, under the American flag, carrying passengers and cargo to every country in the globe.

The nation, through the United States Shipping Board, is flinging a new Declaration of Independence to the world, independence of foreign vessels, for American travelers and commerce.

With a proud merchant fleet numbering 3,740 vessels of 15,533,890 deadweight tons (not including small ships), according to official figures compiled to May 1, it is now "up to" the people of the United States to keep that fleet on the seven seas. Of this great total the United States Shipping Board owns and controls 1,720 vessels of 11,129,406 deadweight tons.

"We must take the huge corporation, the largest the world has ever known, and make it an institution of which every American will be proud," declares Albert D. Lasker,

James Stillman is alleged to be the father. Mrs. Stillman's counsel were preparing to go ahead with carefully prepared plans to reveal "many interesting incidents in his life."

Frank Murphy, steward on the Stillman yacht, was to be the chief witness for Mrs. Stillman.

Among the things that may be made public are drinking bouts featured by golden cocktail shakers and domestic quarrels on the Modesty between Mrs. Leeds and other women alleged to have been friends of Stillman.

A reading circle in which lascivious books were read aloud in mixed company and parties in which the guests' attire was anything but Eskimo, are to be characterized.

Around the Clock.
"Yes, boys," continued the steep-fetched, who was telling "true" and thrilling stories, "yes, I was working a clock tower one afternoon about 12 minutes to 6, when I slipped, slid down the roof and caught on the long hand of the clock. There I dangled while the town folks collected below. So I yelled to 'em, 'Say, you folks, go home to your supper, it'll be close to half an hour before I drop.'—Houston Post.

Machine That Harvests Rice.
As rice has to be harvested in water, it was thought to be work which would always have to be done by human labor, but a machine has been invented which moves through the deep mud and gathers the grain. It is capable of performing many of the duties of the ordinary tractor.

New Weapon for War on Rats.
The exhaust of an automobile has been successfully used in driving away rats which resisted all previous efforts. The gas was turned into one of the rat holes and the rodents scampered out of other.

Remarkable Wills.
Every schoolboy knows that the reading of the will of Julius Caesar marks a turning point in the play of that name. According to a Mohammedan tradition there is a will of Adam in existence. The tradition asserts that no fewer than 70 legions of angels brought him sheets of paper and quill pens, nicely nibbed, all the way from Paradise, and that the Archangel Gabriel set to it his seal as witness. It is estimated by commentators that 43,000 sheets of paper were brought down on which Adam could write his bequests. Noah is also said to have made a will, in which he divided his property, the earth, into three equal shares, one for each son.—Rochester Democrat-Chronicle.

Not an Outer.
"You must be familiar with the ins and outs of politics?"
"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "so far I have been lucky. I have managed to identify myself strictly with the fellows that get in."

When it comes to writing.
To dream that you write with a pen denotes good luck; with a quill, loss of health; with a stick, firmness of purpose; with a pencil, warns you of secret enemies. To dream of writing a letter foretells good news; a bill, an accusation.

Friction—the Pickpocket
of Industry

If the loss to industry through unnecessary friction could be entirely eliminated, it would mean a saving of sufficient money to pay off the combined state debt of Illinois, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas in a single year.

(Moody's Manual)

It would represent twice the value of all the vessels produced in the United States in a normal year, and would be greater in value than the annual rye, barley, or rice crop.

(Statistical Abstract of U. S.)

The value of power lost to industry through friction has been estimated to reach the staggering total of $185,000,000 annually.

(Industrial Oil Engineering)

Realizing that friction is an undesirable partner of industry, and feeling its obligation as the leader among manufacturers of lubricants, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has for years maintained a staff of lubricating engineers and lubricating chemists, whose business it has been to consult with industrial engineers to solve for them their individual lubricating problems as they are presented.

The services of these men are given without charge, and the saving effected has been great.

When it is realized that every machine presents a friction problem, and that every industry, from cotton goods to corn flakes is dependent on proper lubrication for turning out its product efficiently, one function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes more apparent.
